

Thank you for your interest in a grant from the Hurtigruten Foundation. We support a range of projects and activities which further our organisational aims in areas we sail:

- Grass roots projects
- Environmental projects
- Community based projects
- Science research
- Educational projects
- Humanitarian projects

All our grants are funded through income generated from donations and several onboard initiatives, including auctions, fund-raisers and the "Green stay" program, where a donation is made for every night guests ask us not to clean their cabin, thereby saving energy, power, detergent and water.

The purpose of this document is to provide potential applicants with information on the Hurtigruten Foundation funding criteria, our priority areas and the sorts of projects we would consider supporting. It also outlines the conditions of a grant from the Foundation.

We advise reading this document thoroughly before submitting an application.

Points to Note

The Board of the Foundation will consider all bona fide applications which meet our aims. In all cases the Board are interested in projects which will make a significant impact in one or more of our priorities, so all applications must make specific reference to these.

As with many grant funds, demand always exceeds the available resources so not all applications will be successful, or may be offered a lesser sum. The Boards' decision is final in all cases.

Applications are accepted at any time during the year. Decisions on grants are made by Board twice each year at our May and November board meetings. Upon receipt of your application we will advise you when the decision is likely to be made.

Please note the following:

- We would not normally consider more than one application from a single organisation at one time.
- We will not fund projects where the work has already been completed.
- All projects must be explicit in their environmental and social benefit.

Who may apply?

Any organisation wishing to undertake projects or activity concerned with our aims and in the areas of the world we operate.

We are unlikely to consider applications for grants from private companies, commercial organisations, individuals, hospitals, places of worship, private members clubs or other organisations with exclusive or closed membership a persuasive case for public benefit can be made.

How much is available?

All grants are awarded in Norwegian Krone (NOK). Our grants ranges tend to be in the region of 50,000 – 100,000 NOK but smaller or larger amounts will be considered by the board depending on the project. We usually fund part of the cost of a project. There is no fixed percentage for which you can apply to us, but we expect you to explore the possibility of applying to other appropriate sources of public funding for which your project may be eligible and be able to provide evidence of this upon request.

Your application must include a funding breakdown, which gives details of all the funding you are seeking or have secured, the amount you would like from us, and how dependant the project is on funding from the Hurtigruten Foundation.

As part of the decision-making process the Board will consider whether or not the project is fairly priced or offers value for money and we may ask you to corroborate this if there is uncertainty.

Please bear in mind that our resources are finite, and competition for grants can be stiff. The Board will balance the needs of the applicants as well as the spread of grants against the Foundations priorities.

The Board may choose to award a smaller grant than requested, or provide match funding.

In exceptional cases we may be willing to meet the total cost of your project.

What we will fund

- Grass roots projects
- Environmental projects
- Community based projects
- Science research
- Educational projects
- Humanitarian projects

What we will not fund

- Projects not associated with the areas we sail
- Organisations seeking educational funding, e.g. assistance to individuals for degree or post-degree work or school, university or college development programmes.
- Activities exclusively for private members.

Making an application

In order to apply for a grant from the Foundation you will need to complete an application form and supply certain pieces of information. The application form is online in both MS Word and pdf format. Applications should be submitted in electronic format and in English.

What happens next?

When we receive your application we will acknowledge it by email. We will also advise when the next Board meeting will be held at which your proposal will be discussed.

If we require any further information in support of your application we will be in touch.

We will inform all applicants on the outcome of the Board meeting within six weeks of the meeting.

We will agree the payment schedule, project milestones and reporting obligations with you. Our minimum requirement is that you produce a written report on the project within three months of completion of the project. For longer term initiatives we are likely to seek interim reports to update on progress. This will all be agreed with you when we award you the grant.

Conditions of a grant from the Hurtigruten Foundation

The Hurtigruten Foundation is an independent charity. We don't receive any state funding; all our funds come through donations, our ship based operations and auctions. To sustain this income it is important that we work to promote Foundation and the work we do, especially through our grants programme.

An important part of the grant agreement is your commitment to help promote the Foundation and the project we have supported.

Reporting

Once we have agreed to support your project we will ask you to submit to us an outline project plan or timetable against which we can set a payment schedule and milestones. We will agree with you how then you will provide us with reports on the progress of the project and the completion of it. For small grants we would expect to pay you the total amount at the beginning and would require a report on the project upon completion. For larger, more complex projects it may be desirable to have interim reports to monitor progress and these may be associated with grant instalments, especially if activity crosses over more than one financial year. It is helpful if the reports are able to articulate the activity undertaken, the impact it has had against our priorities, any metrics and the legacy of the project. We also look for a small number of high resolution images with permission to use in our own publications and online.

At the very minimum, we ask for a final report on the project with images which we will then use to evaluate the success of the project and to publicise the project through our various media channels. We would expect to receive the final report within three months of completion of the project.
